TRUE STORY

Finding My Voice

Stories from My Life

Donald W. Smith
with Jane Field

A heartwarming and inspiring true account of Don Smith's life living in a wheelchair from birth; unable to walk, talk and only able to use one hand...you will learn of his life in Alberton, Prince Edward Island and see how he overcame many obstacles as he moved to Toronto following his mother's death, to live with his sister and her family. There he learned to read, write, communicate on a new level, gain an independence he had never really known, travelled across the country...you will laugh...you will cry...but most of all, you will learn about a man who persevered through life, when many would have given up.
